IRMA BALL TEAM WINS FIRST PRIZE AT VIKING SPORTS

The Irma senior baseball team journeyed to Viking on July 13 to take part in the baseball tournament at the Viking sports.

The first game was played with Killam in the afternoon. This was a very good game and both teams played well. Irma took the lead when B. Maguire scored on a hit from B. Inkin in the third inning. They held this lead and increased it considerably throughout the game. The game ended with Irma on the long end of a 5-1 score. Much credit goes to P. Inkin who pitched a remarkably good game.

The final game was between Irma and Viking, which proved to be one of the most exciting games seen for some time. Irma took the lead in the second inning when A. Larson scored on a hit from A. Glasgow. However Viking turned the tables early in the third and marked up 5 runs, three being obtained when a heavy hitting slugger one into the bush with the bases loaded. At the end of the sixth inning Irma held the small end of a 7-4 score. They rallied to the occasion however in the next two innings and tied the score in the 8th. The 9th inning was scoreless and an overtime inning was played in which Irma scored a run after having retired Viking scoreless.

It was a great day folks and a greater game! The boys brought home what they went after—First Money! L. Vorus and B. Inkin deserve credit for their splendid balling in the final game and the team as a whole played smooth ball. Below is a summary of the two games.

LADIES' AID MEETING

The July meeting of the Irma Ladies' Aid was held at the home of Mrs. James Fenton and although not as large a meeting as usual it proved both interesting and inspiring. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. R. D. Smallwood and the inspirational presentation was led by Mrs. E. W. Carter. The treasurer, Mrs. Locke, reported $45.90 proceeds of one of the best garden parties held for a long time, and for which the president and members feel very grateful to all the friends and helpers who helped make it such a huge success.

The August meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. T. Knudson on Thursday, August 11th.

SPORTS

(From the Viking News)

Almost every variety of outdoor summer sports was included in the annual sports day held on Wednesday, July 13th, and from remarks heard on all sides from the large holiday crowd that turned out from this and nearby districts, everybody enjoyed the day, and everybody enjoyed the night. It was a perfect day for a weather standpoint and beginning at one o'clock the turnstiles clicked a merry tune all afternoon. It is estimated that over 1000 people attended the sports. The popular admission price and the great variety of entertainment, offered were no doubt instrumental in bringing the big crowd to town from all points.

Included in this year's programme were some stampee events that featured bucking broncos and riders. This new innovation will be enlarged upon next year due to the keen interest taken. The horse races were also a big attraction and were run off in good fashion. Some fast nags were seen in action in every race. It was a good race card.

BASBALL

Viking 6, Orindale 1

The program was officially opened with a ball game between Viking and Orindale. The Viking team had strengthened their line-up for the strong aggregation of ball tossers from Orindale and although outplayed the Orindale boys certainly put up a good game. A three-bagger by Ery Jones for Viking featured this contest.

Irma 5, Killam 2

Irma fielded a fast team that defeated Killam by the score of 5 to 2. Killam brought over a hefty looking nine from the C.P.R., but Irma fell onto the slants of Gaume and soon had the game in the bag.

Irma 9, Viking 8

Irma continued their winning streak by taking the finals from Viking by the score of 9 to 8, in one of the best games seen for many moons in these parts, going ten innings. Viking was in the lead until the ninth when a batting rally by Irma tied up the score. On a squeeze play in the last half of the tenth, Irma put the winning run across. This game had plenty of thrills. In fact all the games were well played.

Speaking of sports in general, the Viking sports held on July 13, drew a big crowd and the events were as good or better than similar events held in the province. The admission fee was also very reasonable for such a varied program. The management did well to get such a heavy program away to a good start and all's well that ends well.

Camroose is breaking into the boxing game. They have Jack Tebo of Fairview matched with "Wild Bill" firm and approved in regular Council meeting.

Further discussion re free hospitalization and Manville hospital accounts. Cr. Ramsay carried that Cr. Hills and the secretary be a committee to write to or interview the hospital board in the matter.

Further discussion re closing of Bank of Montreal in Manville and arrangement of M. D. banking business. Cr. Curry carried that accounts be kept with the Bank of Montreal in the past be now transferred to the Bank of Commerce. Cr. Hills carried that funds be borrowed from the Bank of Commerce to pay off current borrowings from the Bank of Montreal.

Matter of seizures and collections discussed. Cr. Hills carried that seizure be made in all cases where there are arrears of taxes or road grain liens, except where consolidation agreements are in good standing, for an amount equal to the current and 25 per cent of arrears.

The secretary was instructed to procure a ruling on the question as to whether sheep which are in charge of a herder are permitted to graze on open land in this M. D. under the terms of our existing stock by law. Cr. Dew carried that time sheets be paid.

Cr. Hetherington carried payment of bills and accounts.

Cr. Dew carried the adjournment.

Roy W. Hay, Sec'y-Treas.

Women's Institute

The Irma branch of the W. I. held their annual grandmothers' day at the home of Mrs. Howard Peterson on Friday afternoon, July 15. There were 15 grandmothers present. A very happy afternoon was spent. The program consisted of a contest, the winner of which was Mrs. Arthur Peterson; solos and readings were given by some of the members. Group pictures were taken on the lawn and a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

The Institute are sponsoring a baby clinic, with Dr. Greenberg the physician in charge, on Thursday, August 11. Watch for further announcements. Date will be verified next issue.

On Saturday evening, July 16, the representatives of the Irma Y.P.U. and winners for Wainwright Presbytery met the Edmonton representatives in the Y.F.U. provincial debate. The subject for debate was "Resolved that Parliamentary form of government is better than Presidential." The affirmative was taken by the local representatives, Harold Gulbraa and Ralph Congdon, and the negative by A. Alnutt and E. Shortcliffe of Edmonton. Honors of the evening went to the visitors. Our local boys, however, made a very creditable showing and though the Edmonton representatives had the advantage of age and experience, held the visitors to a narrow margin of six points.

Judges for the debate were Mrs. McKay, Father McGrane and I. G. Reeds. Mr. L. Millar of Edmonton was time-keeper. The debate was followed by a social gathering and lunch.

Gold Where It's Found

"There's gold where you find it."

It's an adage familiar to prospectors who dare the loneliness of the wild, the heat of the summer and the snow and ice of the winter in the hope of some day striking that elusive vein which shall put an end to their toil. It is not only current among prospectors, but the truth of its assertion has recently been perpetuated in movieland as the title to a popular film.

The adage gives point to many a saga of the hinterlands where men have grown grizzled and grey in a vain search for the precious metal and have finally lain down pick and shovel at life's end, their labors unrequited. One feels stirred to pity at such stories and is tempted to wonder if they might not have found a better reward if they had pursued some other venture, less romantic but more remunerative. Perhaps they might have done better had they observed and heeded the call of opportunities close at hand instead chasing the rainbow which led them far afield.

Other Opportunities

Similarly one may be led to speculate at times whether some of our governments are not passing up an opportunity which lies at their door to develop to its utmost, latent wealth which might perhaps be readily attainable, or developed to much greater extent than it has been in recent years, whether or not some of the efforts which are being made to search for hidden riches in remote areas might not return steadily accumulating dividends of greater value in the long run if they were turned to the cultivation of prospects outside our back doors.

Specifically, reference is made to the tourist traffic from south of the international boundary line—a plum of great value that will soon be ripe for the plucking if the field is cultivated with care and the product is nursed with an eye to encouragement of a greater yield at harvest time.

That there are great possibilities in this country for a new found industry, and that it would respond readily if the necessary encouragement were given, there can be no doubt, when one reads of the growth it is making with the comparatively small effort that is being made to develop it. One finds, for instance, without any undue effort on the part of the people of this country and their representatives, that it is an industry that is growing rapidly and materially and one is inclined to wonder whether greater efforts would not bring astonishing results, and at a very short time.

For instance, latest statistics, just to hand, reveal that the total estimated expenditures in Canada of tourists from other countries during 1937 amounted to approximately $294,682,000 compared with $251,299,000 in 1936, a gain in one year of $43,383,000 and of this amount a total expenditure of $277,710,000 is attributed by the Department of National Revenue at Ottawa to tourists from the United States.

A Growing Industry

The total for last year is not far short of the value of the Western wheat crop in an average normal year, though it is true that the bulk of the benefit is derived by Eastern Canada and British Columbia. Nevertheless, when this comparatively new-found gold mine yields an increase of approximately 15 per cent. in one year without any great effort being made to develop it, one is warranted in anticipating that more vigorous prosecution of effort would result in increasing production by leaps and bounds.

The figures amply demonstrate that the "ore" is available in much greater quantity and that Americans only need greater encouragement to visit this country in increasing numbers and thus assist in improving our revenues.

If Western Canada is to share to a greater extent in this potential source of wealth it is absolutely essential that more attention be given to the highways of the country. More links are needed between the highways on both sides of the international boundary, and greater efforts should be made to improve and maintain in a high state of efficiency the highways already built.

While it is true that the Canadian west has much of interest to offer to tourists from the south, more could be done to add to the attractions. There is much land in the prairie countries which is not of sufficiently high quality to farm profitably and some of this land could be converted into parks, game preserves and beauty spots under a program of reforestation.

Publicity Needed

And when more good roads are available and more and wider areas are developed as parks and playgrounds, not only for visitors from the south but also for our own people, the necessity of making these attractions well known to prospective tourists by a well directed and co-ordinated publicity program should not be overlooked.

It is true that something has been done in this direction in the past but depression has impeded progress. Now, it appears, however, that the time is approaching when much more can and should be done and the value of such an undertaking will not be hampered one iota if much of the work is undertaken as an unemployment relief measure.

Titled Cleric

Canada's Only Titled Clergyman Leaves For England

Sir Francis Heathcote, Archdeacon of Vancouver, was bound for England, slightly confused over the turn of events that have made him Canada's only titled clergyman.

Leaving Montreal for Quebec, where he boarded the liner Empress of Australia for England, the tall, handsome cleric who came to Canada from England in the 60's, told reporters he had little or no information on his inheritance.

He said his succession to Sir Gilbert Heathcote was bewildering because he had been so far down the line.

"I'm the sixth son of a third son," he said, "and there was also a nephew in between, but they're all dead now."

Sir Francis has no church in Canada, the Vancouver archdeaconate being an endowment of Lady Burdett-Coutts.

Battle With Bear

Boy Owes His Life To His Two Sisters And A Police Dog

A story comes from Fessenden, Sask., that Pete Herington, 14, owes his life to the bravery of his two sisters and to their large police dog. The lad, while hunting some cows, espied a young bear cub behind a log. He stooped over to pick it up only to be struck a terrific blow by the huge paw of the mother bear which had come up behind the lad. The blow was so heavy that the boy was knocked unconscious.

Pete's two sisters, Florence and Marion, witnessed the affair and without any thought of their own safety they, with their dog, rushed forward. The dog made straight for the bear, grabbing it by the throat, and there ensued a battle for life. Meanwhile the girls were able to drag their brother to safety amid the barking of the dog, the growls of the bear and the shrill cries of the cub. The dog eventually drove the bear into the bush.

Pete is proud not only of his sisters and the dog but also of the marks of battle on his neck and back, which he proudly exhibits.

Big Fleet For Russia

Soviets Plan To Greatly Increase Naval Power

Plans intended to make Soviet Russia one of the great naval powers of the world are being pushed and should begin to bear fruit within the next four or five years.

Realizing a great maritime Russia is not possible without a powerful high seas fleet, Soviet leaders have already completed the initial technical work which will give the nation a huge four-arm fleet grouped on the Baltic, White and Black seas and the Pacific ocean.

Equipment is now ready by which the nation should be enabled to manufacture big calibre guns up to 15.75 inches together with powerful protective armament. Foreign technical help will be used in the early stages of the construction period. The last two modern cruisers built at Leningrad were constructed with the aid of Italian engineers.

No Infringement

Motion Picture Company Wins Appeal In Copyright Case

Use of a song title as the name of a motion picture does not constitute an infringement on that song's copyright, the Ontario Court of Appeal ruled.

Accordingly, it allowed the appeal of Twentieth Century Fox Corporation Limited against a judgment holding that company liable to Francis, Day and Hunter, song publishers, for $1,046.35 for using the title, "The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo," in a picture. Neither words nor music were used.

"The owner of the copyright suffered no wrong by what was done," said Mr. Justice Middleton, for the court. "The idea, if any, of the song, its words and its music were not taken."

Foreign Spies

Try To Filch Secrets From U.S. Airplane Factories

Foreign spies, trying to filch secrets from American war plane factories, want to know how the United States proposes to operate planes of the future without propellers.

They would like to find out the extent of United States laboratory work in launching tomorrow's war planes, weighing several hundred thousand pounds, by catapult.

They risk their lives to steal the designs for aircraft bomb sights, which enable army and navy airmen to reach a target unerringly from an altitude of four miles.

When 18 persons were indicted on charges of espionage, it was learned from confidential sources, it marked only the beginning of a drive against more than one foreign spy ring.

Ramifications of the work of foreign secret intelligence agents, intensified by the international situation and the world rearmament race, are known only to picked government agents. Working with the army and navy, the justice, treasury and other departments of the civil government are protecting devices for national defence with which war planes may not be equipped for another five years.

Flies Like A Fly

Plane Designed By German Professor Has No Propeller

An international record was claimed for Professor Heinrich's "house fly" flying machine which flew 144 miles from Bremen to Rangsford, near Berlin.

The helicopter, like a fly, can go forward, up, backward, sideward, down or stand still in the air.

The machine has rotating wings driven by an engine in the fuselage. It has no propeller, but uses a changing angle of incidence of the revolving wings for its sideward, backward and forward motion.

Radio Plays

Cash Prizes To Be Offered By Broadcasting Corporation

It is the intention of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to encourage Canadian authors to write purely Canadian radio drama suitable for broadcast purposes, dealing with Canadian manners, and to obtain their sort of material it will offer cash prizes.

This announcement was made by Major Gladstone Murray, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, in an address to the Canadian Authors' Association, on "What Radio Has To Offer the Writer." A semi-independent board of adjudicators would be set up to decide on the material selected.

Major Murray told the association it was essential that radio work be done well. The spoken essay was the most important part of broadcasting. In this connection he referred to a recent successful broadcast of a story by Miss Mary Weekes of Regina, "The Last Buffalo Hunt," which was an example of the desired type of material. He also praised the broadcasts of Bruce Hutchison over CBO.

Quality of good radio writing should be its directness, simplicity and good use of Anglo-Saxon synonyms.

Sound of the language in a story broadcast was also a most important feature. Centre of the problem of radio broadcasts was the drama and the most successful so far had been adaptations of stage plays and novels. There had been some writing done purely for the radio, in Canada, but it had not been of very distinctive quality. There was a great and rich field for writing for the radio, dealing entirely with Canadian contemporary manners and the interpretation of one section of Canada to another section.

"I place art always in the foreground," said Major Murray. Canada should not be an imitator of foreign methods of broadcasting.

Rupert Caplan, of the Canadian Broadcasting Company, Montreal, and well known producer of plays, said the opportunity offered to write good radio plays had been taken seriously by leading Canadian writers.

Mr. Caplan said the radio listener to-day wanted to be entertained, more than educated. Canadian radio authorities were searching for good radio material, could find none, and it was not necessary to go up in the attic for it, he said. "It is all around you, in the home, on the street, in your every day life."

The Centre Of Unity

Throne-Binds British Empire Together States Lord Tweedsmuir

Without the unifying power of the crown, none of the other ties which hold together the free, autonomous nations of the British empire would "bind for long," Lord Tweedsmuir said in an address at Bishop's college convocation in Lennoxville, Que.

"The throne is the centre of empire unity," the governor-general told the gathering at graduation exercises.

"What is there in common between peoples who represent every race-state on earth," he asked. "Yet these differences are differences without a unity. The throne binds the whole empire together and gives cohesion to a vast group whose ultimate destiny is unpredictable. There are other binding influences, such as the bonds of sentiment and blood of tradition, but without the unifying power of the crown none of these would bind for long."

"To millions of dark-skinned peoples in Asia and Africa and the isles of the sea, government means the person of the sovereign."

"The importance of the British monarch is not in 'what he does but in what he is,' said the governor-general. "We are a democracy in which the will of the people prevails by means of their elected representatives. But the king represents the people in a deeper sense—abiding continuity of the nation behind all the mutations and vicissitudes of parties."

"Britain has rebelled quite often against kings. But never against kingship."

Really Seeing The Country

Chance Comes With Necessity For Driving New Car Slowly

A friend of ours who bought a new car the other day is having an enjoyable experience, states the St. Mary's Journal-Argus. For the first few hundred miles he is driving the car at 20-mile rate. And he says he is really getting acquainted with the countryside as he tours about. He sees what is going on about him up and down the concessions and he observes the progress of spring growth. It makes an interesting and informing picture.

On Its Way Out

Straw Hat As Summer Headgear For Men Seems Doomed

It used to be possible to date the beginning of summer by the burgeoning of straw hats. Some fine Monday morning the usual sober grays, blues and blacks would almost all have disappeared, and one swam along a city street in an undulating swell of flat-topped straws, with here and there a Panama drifting like kelp in the tide. In the afternoon, between 5 and 6 o'clock, there would be a heavy thunder shower. As the season passed, the hats grew dingier. Buttercups and goldenrod adorned the meadows, a few leaves were seen to have turned, and hat owners wondered if another cleaning would be necessary before the winds of autumn brought down the first, premonitory flutter of felts and derivatives. This year, however, felts have remained firm, and in some cases active, while straws have been sluggish.

Without taking sides in any controversy that may be brewing between the felt hat and the straw hat, one may regret this change. The straw hat, after all, demanded only a brief three months of life. It was not pretentious. The flat-topped sailor type gladdened many a sad heart when it blew off somebody else's head and went grumbling down the street. It made a trinket of commuters all look alike, but their wives were generally able to get them sorted out. Is the straw hat doomed? Let us hope not.—New York Times.

Should Use Better Seed

Records Would Indicate Average Farmer Sows Indifferent Quality

Canadian farmers should take fuller advantage of the country's remarkable facilities for use of certified wheat seed, Dr. G. S. H. Barton, federal deputy minister of agriculture, told the Canadian Seed Growers' Association at Guelph, Ont.

From 10 bushels of certified seed there can be produced in five years 7,000,000 bushels of certified seed, the official said. Yet much potential registered seed grain and less than three per cent. of certified seed is being sold on the market.

Canada's seed requirements in wheat, oats, barley, rye, peas, beans and buckwheat approximate 70,000,000 bushels annually. Of the 70,000,000 bushels, only one per cent. of registered seed grain and less than three per cent. of certified seed grain were available this year.

"Seed trial surveys, crop testing records and other sources of information indicate that the average farmer sows indifferent quality and mostly noncertified grain," Dr. Barton said.

MONTANA PURCHASES DROPPED WHEN TURNER VALLEY DEVELOPED

When crude oil was discovered in substantial quantities in Turner Valley, Canadian refiners on the prairies promptly discontinued their purchases of Montana crude so as to afford a market for Canadian production. Thus they sought to encourage a development which would result in a benefit to the country at large, first by an increased production of wealth, and second, reduced prices for petroleum products to the consumer.

Obviously the amount of the price reduction varies. It is greatest in the Calgary and Edmonton areas which are the largest immediate market of Turner Valley. In these districts it amounts to 5½ cents per gallon of gasoline, with relative decreases in prices of other products.

The result of Turner Valley development in part was to bring a disastrous condition in the Montana field which previously had been supplying crude oil for the prairies, and which were deprived of this important part of their product.

Testifying recently before the Tariff Board, F. G. Cottle, Chief Auditor of the Alberta Board of Public Utilities Commissioners, said the distress condition in Montana oil fields would be stabilized if Canadian refiners were willing to continue Montana purchases at 3,000 barrels daily. This, he said, would result in a correspondingly decreased market for Turner Valley, but any disadvantage in this respect might be offset by the advantage of a stabilized Montana market.

The fact is that the pipe lines, the railways and the refiners are all co-operating to give Turner Valley the largest possible market and at the same time give the consumer benefit of the lowest possible price for petroleum products.

THE BLIND IN CANADA

The annual report of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, which has recently been published in an encyclopaedia of information concerning the blind people of Canada and what is being done for them. In some parts of Canada it is a rare thing to see a blind person on the street, but this report discloses that there are now in the Dominion 9,450 men, women and children who must get along without the use of their eyes.

There are 784 in British Columbia, 448 in Alberta, 568 in Saskatchewan, 581 in Manitoba, 3,057 in Ontario, 2,748 in Quebec, 105 in Prince Edward Island, 438 in New Brunswick and 748 in Nova Scotia. There are 235 in Newfoundland.

Of this number approximately 2000 were in receipt of government pensions at the time the report was compiled, March 31, 1938. Many of the blind residents of the Dominion are very old; some of them are young; approximately 500 are in attendance at schools for the blind.

Good Medical Care Concerns All

Whether social medicine ever comes or not, there is a growing realization that some means must be found to secure good medical care for everyone.

At the recent National Conference on Social Work at Seattle, it was estimated that about one out of five families earning less than $2,000.00 a year pay more than $100.00 of it for medical treatment. Low standards in food, housing and clothes increased the amount of illness; at the same time, low incomes meant that medical care was less swiftly and less surely available.

These facts deserve consideration along with the frequent warnings that early diagnosis will prevent illness. A claim that failure to call in a doctor is due to ignorance or stubbornness and not to low income overlooks the following comment at the conference mentioned:

"The very poor and the very rich do not have to worry about medical care. The man earning $20 to $50 a week is denied medical service. He does not want charity and prefers to get along as best he can without asking favors.

"The very rich pay for all they need in the way of family doctors and specialists, hospitals and nursing care. The destitute can claim free care at public hospitals and clinics, charity wards and out-patient departments and the services of a visiting nurse.

"But the man who has managed to keep on paying his way during the depression, or who is to be able to again after a long period on relief, is not going to beg some doctor for help. He is not going to stand in line at the clinic if there is a stigma attached to it. He would rather take a chance on getting well alone. So the wage-earner does without a doctor as long as he can, perhaps until the nagging cough develops into tuberculosis or the small pain is an incurable cancer. He buys a bottle of patent medicine because it is cheaper than paying both doctor and druggist. He reads the almanac and tries the remedy of the man next door. When he finally goes to the doctor he is scolded for not having come before and then he is made miserable because he cannot pay his bill."

In Canada, our relief systems make a feeble effort to provide medical care for the poor but the social economic consequences of unmet medical needs are devastating—they point to the urging of a national health program.

"There is no doubt that unity exists but it is necessary for the people of Canada to have a greater appreciation of the country in which they live. No nation can prosper or endure unless its citizens have a personal sense of honor and obligation."—Senator de B. Farris.

"Whatever happens in Canada, we must not be indifferent. The unpardonable sin of the age is indifference."—Dr. M. Ellen Douglass.
